Description Of Work:

New furnace installation

Member Comments:

Our furnace died on the coldest night of the year. Most places we called were telling us it would take days if not weeks to get a new furnace put in. I called Reupert and they had a rough install done that afternoon. A week and a half later and they came back to do a complete install including new duct work, thermostat, filter, etc. They really saved us when we needed them. We were told there would be some overtime factored into our bill, but the price was actually the same as the people who wanted us to go without heat in February for a week. Really impressed with the way they went the extra mile.
